Summary of Testimony on School Safety and Culture (Appropriations Subcommittee on School Aid and Department of Education) – January 27, 2022
No legislation, just testimony.

- Navigate 360, threat assessment expert CEO JP Guilbault
  - Safety is complex, multifaceted issue for schools and educators. Ability to identify and manage threats has never been so challenging.
  - Holistic approach to school safety, prevention and recovery.
  - Focus on mental health, school climate and safety. Develop strong school safety programs.
  - Need to distinguish between normal child behavior and behavior that is more of a risk. School team need to assess and collaborate to address the issue.
  - To address youth mental health, the next step is for every school to be required and able to form and train a multidisciplinary Threat Assessment Team with a multifaceted approach. The main objective of the Threat Assessment Team is not to punish; it is to identify the likelihood of the action being carried out turning into violence and the root cause behind the action, as well as to get the child help and off the pathway to violence and self-harm.

- Niles High School Principal, Jerry Holtgren
  - 200% increase in MH referrals over last 3 years
  - Some solutions to school safety and current school climate include prevention vs. reactive approach, best solutions are low cost/free, adopting “packages/programs are not always the answer. Staff can often create better solutions.
  - At Niles, they put more energy into creating culture about learners-creating a sense of belonging- students matter, students can make a difference, ensuring students have a voice.
  - Project-based learning leads to student empowerment and self-advocacy. This development is intentional.

- Midland Public Schools Superintendent, Michael Sharrow
  - Created first Strict Discipline Academy
  - Received funding and developed mental health training for staff
  - Have School Resource Officers in elementary schools (proactive approach vs. reactive)

- Grand Rapids Public Schools Assistant Superintendent, Larry Johnson
  - Questions whether the graduation rate will drop in 3 years due to Covid-19 pandemic
Believes in “intervention and prevention over apprehension and detention.”
Doesn’t believe in suspensions for students
Preparing staff to mitigate factors with students-comprehensive training
Components of safe schools (like an umbrella) are school climate-order, respect, trust, cultural diversity; data driven decisions around school safety; fair, consistent discipline action.
